Protection Period

The period for the protection of trademarks registered in Panama is of ten (10) years, counted as of the date of the issuance of the trademark filing, and renewable for equal periods of time. vice.

Classification of Goods and Services

About the classification of goods and services, Panama has adopted the International Classification of Goods and Services, whereby an application for a trade or service mark can cover multiple classes in a single application.

Opposition, Unfair Trading, Non-Use, Misrepresentation, and Infringement Proceedings

These proceedings are handled through the Commercial Courts of the Judicial Branch of the Republic of Panama.

International Agreements

Panaman law is in accordance to the following international agreements:

1. General Inter-American Convention for Trademark and Commercial Protection.
2. International Classification of Trademarks for Products and Services.
3. Stockholm Convention establishing the World Intellectual Property Organization.
4. Paris Convention for the protection of industrial property of March 20, 1883 (ratified by Panama by Law No 41 of July 13, 1995).
5. Lisboa 6. OMC 7. TRIPS
6. Others.

General Considerations

Pardini & Associates has a complete IP Group prepared to assist you in any intellectual property matter.

General Considerations

Panama law defines trademark as all signs, word or combination of these elements or any other medium that, by its characteristics, may individual a commercial product or service.

Registration Procedure

The registration procedure of trademarks is handled administratively through the General Directorate of Registration of Industrial Property ("DIGERPI") of the Ministry of Commerce and Industry. Once the petition for registration is filed, it will be published in the Industrial Property Bulletin for a period of three (3) months within which, if the mark has not been subject to opposition, the permanent registration is granted.

Preliminary Search and Investigations

Investigations of a trade or service mark must be requested by a qualified law firm to the Department of Industrial Property of the Ministry of Commerce.

Requirements to Register a Foreign Trademark, Tradename or Service Mark in Panama

- 1. Power of Attorney in favor of PARDINI & ASOCIADOS duly notarized and legalized by the Panamanian Consulate in the country of origin or by “Apostille” stamp.
- 2. Samples and descriptions of the trademarks and design (if any) as well as the classes and goods to be protected.
- 3. If priority of registration wants to be claimed, we must also receive evidence of such priority.
- 4. Information regarding the use of the trademark in the Republic of Panama or International Commerce.
